Munich

at a glance

There is a total of 10 universities in Munich, with a massive student population of approx 80 000.

See www.muenchen.de for more information about all of Munich's universities and colleges.

Shopping

In typical Bavarian style, here in Munich the designer names are to be found alongside traditional Bavarian wares. And with four shopping centres within easy reach of the city centre (Shopping Centres Munich, Olympia Einkaufszentrum, Einkaufs-Centrum Neuperlach (pep) and Riem Arcaden), plus the various markets each with their individual appeal, there really is something for everyone. See www.muenchen.de for a comprehensive guide.

Food and Drink

Munich has its own Bavarian food specialties, Weißwürste, to be eaten with sweet mustard and pretzels which are traditionally eaten before midday, Leberknödel soup, Schweinebraten with Knödel and Leberkäs. Schweinshaxe (pork knuckle) and Beuscherl (a plate of lung, heart and spleen) are also served with Knödel. The cheese delicacy of Obatzda and the fantastic local beers which Munich is famous for (such as Weißbier, Helles and Starkbier) should also be tried in one of the traditional beer gardens!

Nightlife

Most noteworthy area in Munich for its high quality nightlife is the area around Münchener Freiheit in Schwabing, with its countless bars, cafes, restaurants and dance clubs.

Public Transport

A combination of trains, the underground, trams and buses means the public transport system is, like Stuttgart's, simply excellent. The airport and the city centre are both easily accessible.
